> DEATHS AND LOSSES. Counting Up the Cost of the Armenian Outrages. Now that matters seem to be quieting down again in Constantantinople and in the Asiatic provinces, people are beginning to Asiatic provinces, people are beginning to form estimates of the amount of damage done and the number of lives lost during the recent disturbances. Well-informed Armenians estimate the losses through the events which have just taken placed in Anatolia alone at $50,000,000 and table number of victims at $40,000. Of course, these are Armenian estimates, but there seems good reason for believing that the property destroyed, the number of lives sacrificed and the terrible outrages committed, are far beyond anything hitherto estimated or described.

MORE PILLAGE BY CHINESE. Destruction of the French Mission at Luihsiang. A special dispatch from Shanghai says that the French mission at Luihslang has been destroyed by the natives of that vicinity, during the absence of the French gunboat which is usually stationed in those Lowering the Ram Points. The Secretary of the Navy has approved the recommendation of the Walker board that the ram points of the new battleships be placed nine feet below the water line. Under the old system these ram points were placed only about 5 feet 6 inches below the water line. The change is made on the theory that the rams will be more effective against an enemy at the lower point.

THE WORLD OF SOCIETY

Cardinal Gibbons Officiates at Another Wedding.

The Marriage of Miss Gorman and

P. Gorman, to Mr. Richard Johnson, eldest son of the late E. Kurtz Johnson, president of the Citizens' National Bank, was solemnized at noon today at the Gorman residence, 15th and K streets, in the presence of a large gathering, entirely made up, however, of the near relatives of the couple. The ceremony took place in the front drawing room, in a floral bower arranged in front of the triple windows, with palms, white chrysanthemums and daisies. The mantels were banked with Farlayense ferns, sprayed with chrysanthemums, roses and daisies, and the dining room was also elaborately decked in the same manner. The breakfast table glittered with the Gorman silver, and the wedding cake, wreathed in white blossoms, was a conspicuous ornament.

The guests had all assembled a few min-The guests had all assembled a few minutes before 12, when the bride came into the parlor escorted by her father. The groom and his best man, Mr. Perry Johnson, his youngest brother, awaited their coming at the bower, where also stood Cardinal Gibbons, who performed the ceremony, the groom being a Catholic.

The bride, who is a charmingly attractive young lady, was elegantly gowned in white

The bride, who is a charmingly attractive young lady, was elegantly gowned in white satin and point lace. The bodice was almost entirely covered with the lace. A tulle veil was worn, fastened by a spray of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white orchids. Besides Senator and Mrs. Gorman and Arthur P. Gorman, ir., there were present of the bride's relatives, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Gorman of Laurel, Mr. and Mrs. Sallade of an orange of Raltimore Mrs. Sallade of ent of the bride's relatives, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Gorman of Laurel, Mr. and Mrs. William Gorman of Baltimore, Mrs. Sallade of Philadelphia and Mrs. Hendricks of this city. Mrs. E. Kurtz Johnson, the groom's mother; Miss Johnson and the young sons of the houshold, Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Geary Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. V. Baldwin Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. V. Baldwin Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Casselman and others of the groom's relatives made up the rest of the company. After the wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson went to New York, the bride traveling in a dark-toned cloth dress, tailor made, with a hat to match. After their return they will spend a few weeks with Mrs. E. Kurtz Johnson, preparatory to going housekeeping at their new home, 1022 P street, which is being prepared for their occupancy, and where the bride will receive her friends on stated days to be announced later. Notwithstanding the fact that it was understood from the first that the wedding would be a quiet one, the bride received numbers of elegant gifts, which she has shown her friends the past few days. They included a great quantity of silver and articles of jewelry.

for complaint against the delay in the present delivery of mail matter in the city. I reside not a thousand miles from 9th and S streets, and this morning I received a letter the local postmark on which shows that it was received at the city post office at noon yesterday from the north. Yet this letter was the latter of the party fairly in the center, throwing the tree occupants a considerable distance but no one was more not delivered at my residence until 8 o'clock this morning. I do not wish to criticise the present city postmaster further than to state that under the management of his prede-cessor letters received here at noon and even an hour or two later were delivered at my residence the same afternoon. This delay has been my experience and I doubt not the experience of my neighbors during the past several weeks.

He entered Amherst College in 1858; entered Dartmouth, sophomores, fall of 1860. Studied medicine at the Dartmouth Medical College, from which he graduated Medical College, from which he graduated in 1863. He was medical cadet in 1862 in the United States army, and stationed in Columbia Hospital, Washington, D. C. May 6, 1861, he was appointed assistant surgeon of the fortieth Massachusetts volunteer infantry. He rendered services in some of the severest battles of the late war. In December, 1864, he was transferred to Washington and became assistant surgeon in the Army Hospital, and there remained until 1893. Since then he has resided in Washington engaged in the practice of his profession. He married Miss sided in Washington engaged in the practice of his profession. He married Miss Helen-Wirt White of Marlboro', Md. March 2, 1864. He leaves a large family, his eldest son, Dr. Arthur C. Merriam, continuing in the profession his father loved so much. He was a member of Beacon Ledge, I. O. O. F., and of Excelsior Lodge, No. 15, K. of P., and of John F. Reynolds Post, G. A. R.

The Kindergarten Club of Washingto neld a meeting last evening at the North Presbyterian Church, N street near 10th Introductory remarks were made by Rev George B. Patch, followed by a prayer and lyme and a chorus by the ladies of normal class, '95 and '96. Miss Amy May gave a kindergarten talk, with balls, to Sunday school children. Miss Sara Katharine Lipschool children. Miss Sara Katharine Lip-pincott sang a solo, and Miss Salee Oomas-uyah of the Indian territory, in native cos-tume, delivered an address, showing the progress of kindergarten work among the Indians. Miss Louise Pollok spoke on the object and methods of the club, which has resolved to take part in the meetings of the congress of religions, to be held in Washington April 22.

Climbed the Post. Climbing a lamp post without a ladder was the charge against a poorly dressed man named John Angel, who appeared as prisoner in Judge Kimball's court today. John was under the influence of liquor last night, and at 14th street and Maryland averue northeast he climbed a lamp post and vainly endeavcred to light his pipe. He did succeed, however, in extinguishing the light and Pollceman Bradicy arrested him. "At d on the way to the box," said the officer, "he imagined he saw spooks and snakes and was very much frightened."
"If he continues to drink liquor," said the judge, "he will see snakes."
Balliff Kendig told the court that the man is an ex-inmate of the Insane Asylum, and he considered him dangerous.
"I've been working in the country," said the prisoner, "and yesterday I came in to buy a pair of shoes, and on my way home I took a drink, but I hope you will excuse me this time."
"Can't excuse this kind of conduct," said the court, and a fine of $1 was imposed.

An Exciting Runaway. There was an exciting scene on F street today about roon, when a horse attached to a wagon belonging to W. B. Moses ran away. As is the usual custom, at noon their horses are unbridled and given lunch, but today the horse attached to wagon No. 14 took fright and dashed up F street without doing any damage. When it reached 15th doing any damage. When it reached 15th street, the horse turned the corner as if it had a driver, missing a cable car by an inch. Joseph Burley, a white boy, seeing the animal coming, made a leap and caught the reins, and it was all over. It is a great miracle that no one was hurt, as F street was crowded at the time.

John Beute, the night clerk of the Mount Vernon Hotel, who absconded yesterday with $100 which had been deposited by a guest. Thos. J. Gill of Danville, Va., was arrested today by Detective Carter. was found in a saloon near police head-quarters and made no denial of the charge to the officers. Beute had only 10 cents in his possession when arrested. He declares that he gave $26 to his wife, and that the that he gave $26 to his wife, and that the remainder of the $100 was taken from him by a cabman in a saloon while he was intoxicated. Mrs. Beute, who resides at 405 K street southwest, turned over $6 to Detective Carter. Beute is about thirty-five years of age, and had been employed at the hotel about a month. He will be given a hearing in the Police Court tomorrow.

Twenty-Eight Hundred Pounds of Turkey to Be Served Up. There will be a feest at St. Elizabeth's tomorrow. Over 250 turkeys, weighing 2,800 pounds, will be served up, with four or five barrels of cranberry sauce and other "fixins," to the 2,300 people who dwell within that haven for the weary minded. Of these, less than 1,800 are patients, and the rest are physicians, rurses, attendants and employes of various kinds. The day is enjoyed by the patients almost without exception. Dr. Godding says it is rarely that the reason is so unseated that Thanksgiving, with its turkey and cranberry sauce, cannot be appreciated. In the evening there will be music and dancing.

Roselle, an old school friend, sent her to Langerman, with a note, asking him to buy a book of Miss Aub.

Miss Aub told how Langerman had subscribed for the book, after which Langerman kissed her, and in return she slapped his face. Then she said he grabbed her around the wals, and, dragging her into his room, assaulted her.

The defendant alleged that she made no objection to his familiarities, and testimony was introduced to show that no cry was heard coming from Langerman's room, although the windows were open.
